MOTHER EDDY IS DEAD, FOUNDER OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Pases Away Without Atten-dence of Physician Saturday Night.

Announcement Was Made at Boston Yesterday.

WONDERFUL WOMAN IS GONE.

The Paducah church, Scientist, was formally notified of Mrs. Eddy's death today in a telegram from L. H.
Jones, a teacher and member of the publication committee at Louisville.
The telegram was received by Mr.
Charles Williams, second reader of this church, but no action has been taken. Notices were sent from headquarters at Boston and dispatched from Louisville, which is the main station in Kentucky.

Funeral of Mrs. Eddy.
Boston, Mass., Dec. 5.—The funeral of Mrs. Eddy will be held at 11 o'clock Thursday from Newton's residence. The services will be private.

Boston, Dec. 5.—More than a million followers of Mrs. Mary Baker G.
Eddy, today accepted the news of her death in sorrow, but no Christian Scientist in Boston would admit that the church has suffered a loss to its organization through Mrs.
Eddy's death.

"By Mrs. Eddy's death we lose the counsel of our leader. The church organization is complete as it stands today. It is well understood that no successor to Mrs. Eddy will be named," was the statement of Alfred Barlow, head of the church's publication department.

Look for Collapse.
Chicago, Dec. 5.—The collapse of Christian Science as a result of the death of its leader was freely predicted here today by leading theologians who declare that ecstasies will rend the religious structure Mrs.
Eddy built. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, said: "Mrs. Eddy laid out of a half-truth and overworked it. The vitality of her message meets its supreme test now. The church has great momentum and as large constituency,
but I look for a slow decline."

Mrs. Eddy's Death.
Boston, Mass., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, founder and leader of the Christian Science cult, died Saturday night at her home on Chestnut Hill.

"Natural causes" explains the death, according to Dr. George L.
West, district medical examiner, who was summoned a few hours after Mrs.
Eddy had passed away. Later Dr.
West added to his statement by saying that the more immediate cause was probably pneumonia.

The news of Mrs. Eddy's death was made known simultaneously by Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the church, at the close of the morning services, and by Alfred Barlow of the Christian Science publication committee, in a statement to the press.

According to Mr. Farlow, Mrs.
Eddy passed away at a quarter before 11 o'clock last night.

"She had been indisposed for about nine days," said Mr. Farlow's statement, "but had been up and dressed and as late as Thursday transacted some business with the officials of the Christian Science church. She took her daily afternoon drive until two days before her going."

Burial Will Be Private.
"Saturday night she fell quietly asleep and those around her could at first hardly realize that she had gone. Her thought was clear until the last, and she left no final message."

"No physician was in attendance,
but she had the assistance of the students who comprised her household. With her at the time of her departure were Calvin A. Frye, Mrs.

Postpone Installation.
The inclement weather Sunday evening cut down the attendance at all of the Paducah churches. The installation services for the Broadway Methodist church were postponed indefinitely and no services were held at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church.

McCracken County.

A dispatch of the United Press associations at Washington and a special communication from Director of Census Durand, show that Mc-Cracken county made gains during the ten years out of all proportion to the state at large, her population increasing from 25,733 to 35,064, most of which was in Paducah or the contiguous territory. It being estimated that more than 2,000 are living in suburbs to the west of the city limits.
The last previous census showed that 11,000 population lived in the county outside Paducah. Basing estimates on these figures, it is probable that Paducah proper contains something less than 24,000 population, which would have been mat-
terially increased if the general census a year ago had not ignored demands that contiguous territory, which would have been materially increased if the general census a year ago had not ignored demands that contiguous territory, which possessed a practically urban population, be annexed. If Paducah's showing falls below what the people expected, it is the fault of the general census in not acting promptly.

The Purchase Population.

Washington, Dec. 5.—(Special).—
The population of Jackson's purchase in Kentucky is 151,743, divided among the counties as follows:
McCracken 35,064, Graves 33,539, Ballard 12,690, Carlisle 9,048, Fulton 14,114, Hickman 11,750, Marshall 15,771, Callaway 19,967.

Louisville's population 223,928, Jefferson county included, 262,920.
Campbell county, including Newport, 59,629; Fayette county and Lexington 47,475; Kenton county and Covington 70,355; Daviess county and Owensboro, 41,020, Henderson county and city 29,352.

In 1900 the state's population was 2,195,174. Only four states have shown a smaller percentage of increase than Kentucky. They are Iowa, New Hampshire, Missouri and Vermont.

It is believed that Kentucky will lose none of her eleven congressmen, unless congress has decided upon apportioning in excess of 218,000, as the number of inhabitants to be represented by each representative in

Good Fellows Must Do Shopping Early

The Good Fellows of Paducah should not forget to shop early this year. By this act their good work will serve a dual purpose, and they will also be a Good Fellow to the tired clerks of the stores. Avoid the throngs of the last days and you will be happier and in a better mood
when you play the role of Santa Claus on Christmas eve. Nobody with a frown on their face can serve as a true agent of the jolly little man, and Christmas shopping during the closing hours is certain to make one tired and maybe a little out of humor.

The number of good Fellows in Paducah is increasing. This is ascertained by the number of promises already made to care for the indigent children on Christmas, but there is still work for a whole army of Good Fellows. Touched by the spirit of the work in several homes where there will be Christmas trees, several children, who otherwise would not see a Christmas tree, will be invited guests. This is encouraging, but you do not have to give a Christmas tree to be a Good Fellow. Give your name and address to the Philanthropic department of the Woman's club, 214

South Seventh street, or The Evening Sun, with the statement how many children you will be Santa Claus to.
The names and addresses of the children will be sent you, and then, on Christmas eve you can make joy in homes, which will be sad unless you act. Will you enlist at once?

County Teachers' Meeting.
The last meeting of the County Teachers' association will be held at Massac December 17. The program will be completed next week. Owing to the fact that several of the county schools will be out after Christmas it will be the last meeting of the association this term.

ture for the past twenty-four

SHORT SESSION OF CONGRESS MEETS AT NOON TODAY

Many Important Questions are Before National Legislature.

End of Republican Control of Lower House.

ALL DEPARTMENTS RETRENCH.

(United Press)

Washington, Dec. 5.—A comparatively meagre attendance of members for the opening of congress at noon today of the final session of the Sixty-first congress. Washington society flocked to the congressional galleries, despite the first heavy snow fall of the season. Speaker Cannon was loudly applauded when he appeared. The house adjourned at 12:46, after adopting resolutions, deploring the death of Tirrell, of Massachusetts; Brownlow, of Tennessee; Faulkrod, of Pennsylvania, and Gilmore, of Louisiana. The senate was cheerful when Vice President Sherman entered, despite losses in the November election.

The senate adjourned at 12:18
out of respect for four deceased senators: McEnery, of Louisiana; Daniels, of Virginia; Clay, of Georgia, and Dooliver, of Iowa.

Champ Clark walked two miles
through the slush in a blinding snow storm to the capitol. He brushed himself off and hurried to the floor,
where he received a tremendous ovation.
Speaker Cannon went to the capitol
in his electrically heated limousine.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Congress resumed today the labor of saving the country. Three months will be spent in passing a few more of the 36,000 bills introduced in the two preceding sessions. There will be much maneuvering for party advantage and several presidential booms will be advanced, as occasion permits.

The session will mark the loss of control of the house by Republicans, the latter are expected to crowd through bills in which they have special interest and to be energetic in efforts to get liberal appropriations for home projects.

Two new questions that will test
the fighting qualities of the legislature concern the establishment of a central bank and the apportionment of the country's population among representatives in congress.

Senator Aldrich, (Rep., R. I.)
chairman of the national monetary committee, composed of members and ex-members of congress, is the leader in central bank movement. He holds that the supreme remedy for the cure of the ills of the country's currency system is a central bank,
such as is at the head of the financial world in England and in France.

A bank of that kind in the United States would control the issue of currency and have other important powers.

In official circles here the report is persistent that Aldrich will try to drive a bill embodying his idea through the present congress. He is credited with the opinion that, with Republicans in control, the present congress offers a chance, perhaps only a desperate one, for the passage of the bill. With the Democrats holding the next house, the chance would be slight if there be any at all.

Objection to the bill which will be pressed to the limit, will have the backing of scores of senators and representatives. Their contention is that conditions in this country are so different from those in Europe that the English and French schemes would be impracticable.

Apportionment is a matter of politics. It can be used to have an important effect on party strength and is therefore a fit issue for strenuous contention. In some cases it touches state pride and of course,
that impels Senators and representatives from those states to reach for their war paint.

During the past 10 years the house has had 391 members, each representing 193,167 people. In the preceding 10 years there were 356 congressmen, each representing 173,901 of the population. If the present number of members should be retained the ratio would be raised

English Election Riots, Fraud Charges and Speeches Continue To Mark Contest For Parliament

Seventy-five Seats Are in Hands of Voters Today—
Unionists Make Total Gain
of Three.

London, Dec. 5.—Serious riots and wide-spread disorder today marked
the third day of the general election.
Seventy-five members of parliament are being elected. Never before has there been such a cry of fraud from both the Liberal and the Conservative ranks. This is because the elections are held under the registration of 18 months ago.

The total returns so far show:
Conservatives, 80; Liberals, 58;
Irish Nationalists, 14, and Laborites,
8. The Unionists (opposition) gained three.

REVOLVER SHOT PUTS

A BURGLAR TO FLIGHT
Before J. S. Lee, a pharmacist at Eleventh and Caldwell streets, could put a burglar to flight last night he was compelled to take a shot at
him. Then the burglar was in a big hurry and tore down a small fence in getting away. Mr. Lee closed his store at 10 o'clock last night and had retired when he received a call to fill a prescription at 10:45 o'clock.
Returning to the drug store he turned on the electric light in the rear and at the same time heard a noise at the side door on Caldwell street. Going to investigate he found a white man attempting to force the door open.

Birds Plentiful.

Mr. H. C. McCandless returned after a two days' hunt on the McCandless farm near Smithland. In the two days Mr. McCandless killed eighty birds and fourteen rabbits. He says birds are plentiful up there.

STONE BASES PROTRUDE BEYOND PROPERTY LINE

The city may compel the First National bank to remove two 2-foot stone bases at either side of the entrance to the new stone building.
Third street and Broadway, and also remove the first step, which extends about 18 inches over the property line. Mayor James P. Smith, President Rudy, of the board of public works, Street Inspector Bell, Fins Lack, of the board of public works,
and City Engineer Washington met with President Reeves, of the bank
today, but no decision was reached.

DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS HAVE FEW DAYS OF GRACE

All delinquent taxpayers will have their only last opportunity to pay state and county taxes before December 15. After that date Sheriff George W. Houser will begin to lay upon and sell personal property of the delinquent taxpayers. Notices are being mailed out to all of the delinquent taxpayers as a last call.
Deputy Sheriff Charles Clark has ascertained that the white property owners in the city owe $3,400 in taxes, while the colored property owners owe $1,340. The penalty of ten per cent is now in effect.

CHILD IMITATES MOTHER--DEAD

FOUR-YEAR-OLD AT MASSAC DRAINS BOTTLE OF POISON.

Watching his mother take twenty drops of tincture of gelsemium to ease her neuralgia shortly before 7 o'clock last night, 4-year-old Charles Waltman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bell Waltman, of Massac, secured the bottle and drank the deadly drug. In a few seconds blindness set in and he cried out for his father.

Dr. D. H. Ray, of Camelia, four miles from Massac, was the nearest physician and he was called. In spite of his efforts the lad died at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Waltman was ill at the time and the drug was innocently taken.
Dr. Ray estimated that 35 drops, enough to paralyze his heart, were drunk by the lad. There was no pulse when Dr. Ray reached the home and artificial respiration applied was
of no avail.

The funeral was held at the Mas-sac church at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The burial was in the church graveyard.

BLANKET HORSES.

Lycurgus Rice, stock patrolman, has issued an order that all horses and mules left standing on the streets during the cold weather must be protected from exposure by a blanket.

PROWLERS ENTER HOMES WHILE FAMILIES AWAY

Two bold robberies, one in daylight, were committed in residence districts of Paducah Sunday.
Charles T. Graham, of Ninth and Clark streets, and E. W. Whittemore, of 514 North Sixth street, were the victims of evidently the same burglars.

After taking supper away from home last evening Mr. and Mrs.
Graham returned home about 9 p. m.
to find the rear doors and the pantry
and west bedroom windows thrown open. The interior gave evidences of complete ransacking. Drawers and closets were opened, but valuable jewelry and silverware were left untouched with the exception of three plain gold rings and three pairs of spectacles. Evidently the intruders were after money, but none had been left in the house. Entrance was effected through the bedroom window and a footprint was visible on the floor. Patrolmen Dunaway and Kirk and Police Sergeant Cross were called and conducted a search about the premises. The city's blood-hounds were not available as they were out of the city and were not returned until today.

Whittemore Burglary.

Burglars escaped with more swag
from Mr. Whittemore's residence which was entered sometime yesterday afternoon while Mr. and Mrs.
Whittemore was attending the Elks memorial services. When they returned at 7 o'clock they found that a window had been "jimmied." A $65 diamond ring, $1.15 in money, 5
dozen handkerchiefs, six pairs of socks and 2 shirts were missing. This morning the two pocketbooks, which contained the small amount of change, were found thrown under a rose bush in the yard. The police are without clues in both cases.

George Edward Murray.

George Edward Murray, the
2-days-old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur Murray, of 1304 South
Seventh street, died Saturday night.
The funeral was held Sunday morning and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

SLAYER OF CAIRO POLICEMAN SAFE

PULASKI COUNTY SHERIFF IS PLACED IN JAIL AT MUR- PHYSBORO.

Cairo, Ill., Dec. 5.—A. C. Bank-ston, sheriff of Pulaski county, who shot and killed Sergeant Wilfred V.
French Saturday night at police headquarters, is now safe in the county jail at Murphysboro, where he will be kept until the county authorities bring him back to Cairo.
Night Sergeant Wilfred French
was shot and almost instantly killed at 5:15 o'clock Saturday in police headquarters by Sheriff Ab Bank-ston of Pulaski county.

The sheriff, who was under influence of liquor, and who has been arrested frequently in Cairo for making trouble while intoxicated, fired three shots at the officer. The first shot entered French's back and pierced his heart. He fell to the floor dead.

Officer Paul, who was standing
near when the trouble occurred, knocked the Pulaski county sheriff down and he was overpowered and hustled away.

As soon as the shooting occurred the news spread over the city and a crowd gathered at headquarters.
The excitement was great, and as a precaution to prevent trouble the police were warned not to permit
people to gather on the streets to discuss the affair.

WILL INHERIT PORTION OF BIG LONDON ESTATE

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Mable Newman, 206 Broadway, that she is heir to one-fourteenth of an estate valued at $800,000. The estate is left by her uncle, James Solomon, who was a wealthy silversmith of London.

LARGE FUNERAL BILLS RECEIVED FOR COUNTY POOR

Fiscal Court Will Make Arrangements For Future
Charges.

Routine Business Before the Magistrates.

TURN DOWN THE SANATORIUM.

The McCracken fiscal court today voted to invite bids for pauper coffins and to let the contract at the next meeting in January.

Bills for the pauper dead in Mc-Cracken county for the month of November totaled $216 when presented at the regular monthly session of fiscal court which was held today. The fact that the bill was considered excessive caused considerable discussion, and an agreement as to charges will be made with Coroner Robert L.
Eley. During the month there were 18 inquests which cost the county $108 and the remainder was for the purchase of coffins.

Under the present agreement the coroner receives $6 for each inquest.
When it is necessary for the county to bury the body, the coffin is purchased by the county, and the coroner receives $7 for the burial. In case of children the coroner receives the same burial fee but he supplies
the coffin. Sometimes, it is said, when families are able to assist financially in the burial of people,
they decline and the county foots the bill.

County Ignores Sanitarium.

A request was made for the county to assist with the maintenance of the anti-tuberculosis sanitarium, and after some discussion the request was deferred until the next meeting. Dra.
S. Z. Holland, Frank Boyd and J. T.
Reddick, composing a committee
from the McCracken County Medical society, were present and asked the county to give assistance. It was proposed for the county to give $100 a month for the maintenance of the camp or to pay per capita for every patient from the county. There was some discussion about the legality of contributing the money as well as the ability of the apportionments to stand the extra expense. It was suggested that the request be taken up at the next meeting. The request for the county to purchase $50 worth of Christmas seals was referred.

At noon the magistrates adjourned until 1:30 o'clock. They were the guests of James C. Utterback, county treasurer, with a dinner at the Palmer House.

THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.
Tonight—Frank McIntyre in "The Traveling Salesman."
Balance of Week—Lewis Stock company in repertoire.
STAR—Family Vaudeville.
GEM—Moving Pictures.

Frank McIntyre will appear at The Kentucky tonight in "The Traveling Salesman" at the head of the original company Friday night the same company played at Nashville and the Banner said Saturday:
"At the Vendome last night James Forbes' latest comedy success was received with the same strong appreciation accorded it in eastern cities where it was distinguished by long huns. The comedy is breezy and wholesome, full of laughs from start to finish, and is a worthy successor to "The Chorus Lady." The name tells the story and the four acts are true portrayals of a drummer's life and depict with marked success some of his characteristics. Though by no means deep the comedy has a well defined plot, giving the whole a touch of human interest which rounds it out to perfection.

"The company collectively and individually could hardly be improved upon. Frank J. McIntyre as Bob Blake is the central figure. As Mrs. Babbitt, a gossip and particular friend of the leading lady, Beth Elliott (Gertrude Coughlan), says he is an attractive devil, so fat and genial. The lines of the play are filled to the brim with up-to-date jokes, real wit, and bright repartee.

"Gertrude Coughlan, as Beth Elliott was excellent, filling the part of the heroine admirably. All of the lesser lights were good, and by their splendid acting rose far above those who generally take the more obscure roles. James O'Neal made a good impression as one of the traveling salesmen, and Julius, the 'whole staff at the Hotel Elite,' was simply immense. Sarah McVicker, as Mrs. Babbitt, a gossip, was a feature of the play."

AT THE STAR THEATER.
Opening at the Star theater for the first three days of the week is one of the most talked-of acts in vaudeville today, and consists of Antonio Stokes, in appearance "Caruso's Double," and the owner of an exceptionally attractive tenor voice, and Minnie Bernhardt, who successfully impersonates Lillian Russell and other noted characters in her Marionettes sketch full of good lines and good laughs.

These people form a combination that make a great attraction for a vaudeville house. The act is by far the most expensive act that Manager Desberger has ever brought to Paducah for his patrons.

Ethel West and Tom Denton under the team name of West and Denton will present their laughing success, "Wanted: A Partner." It is a comedy full of fun.

Miss Andrea Smith will sing "Which Would You Rather Have a

BASKETBALL

FANS WILL MEET THIS WEEK TO ORGANIZE.

Problem of a Suitable Hall Is One That Bothers Them.

There will be a meeting of the basketball fans sometime this week for the purpose of taking a definite step towards a reorganization of the city basketball league and a resumption of the indoor sport. The two seasons of the league have resulted in basketball becoming about the most popular sport in Paducah, and there is a loud clamor for the games again this winter. The greatest difficulty before the players and officers of the league is the lack of a suitable place for the games. The old gymnasium has been converted into a storage room, and can not be secured and it is up to the lads to find the best place possible.

Daily Thought.

"Forget your troubles and count your blessings."

While the growth of urban population far outstrips the gain in the rural districts in the United States, the situation is not so alarming, when it is recalled that the rural county seat gains have exceeded that of the larger cities in percentage. This population, while not professionally agricultural, is rural in its sympathies, and point of view. Agriculture is the mainstay of these smaller cities and towns, and their populations are composed of retired farmers and the children of farmers.

A CHRISTMAS THOUGHT.

Here's a stray thought making the round of the press that is worthy of reproduction:

"He for whom Christmas is named brought the gift of himself to a world which had nothing—except faith and love—to give him in return, and which for the most part has not so far been disposed to give him even that. Nevertheless, he gave it, and there is no genuinely vital Christmas giving which is not in the same spirit. We would not for the world discourage the interchange of gifts which come to be customary at this time in families and between friends, where such interchange is prompted by the heart. In spite of the sham and the hypocrisy which have come to overlay much of such giving, the custom tends to the development of the higher qualities. But this is a reminder that the pleasure of the getting ready for Christmas always great where sincere impulse is made the guide among the shops, can be immensely heightened by a getting ready to make happy some dependent soul which now looks forward to no brightness in the day."

PINCHOT, THE MAN AND THE FORESTER.

According to the Chicago Tribune, Gifford Pinchot is now mad with Theodore Roosevelt, because the latter hounded him with Ballinger at a reception, endorsed President Taft, said the Payne tariff law was the best ever enacted and wrote the New York platform.

Pinchot is a rich young man, with no necessity for earning a living and a hobby for forestry. He equipped himself as a specialist on the subject and his services were secured by President Roosevelt for the nation. His work in that department is beyond compensation and Mr. Pinchot is deserving of all praise as a patriotic citizen devoted to his country. But Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, and Gifford Pinchot, dictator to the administration on all questions and moral censor to the nation, are two different persons, so far as our attitude toward them is concerned.

Mr. Pinchot has had his own sweet will all his life; with no enforced consideration for the rights, feelings and opinions of others. In common parlance, Giff has got a bad case of swollen head. He has been rich, easy and free to do as he pleased all his life with plenty of servants to abuse when his liver is torpid. If he didn't care for his liver, no business concern made him dissatisfied. Such conditions of living are not good for the disposition. Gifford was made much of by President Roosevelt, he received much commendatory notice in the magazines, and he thought, as many another child or man has thought, that there was some magic potency in his word.

The administration changed, and a new president, of a different temperament, entered the white house. Gifford put on his best arrogant air and told the new official he didn't know anything about conservation and that the new secretary of the interior was a crook. He was promptly discharged. Democratic congressmen, investigating charges against the secretary of the interior, voted that Pinchot was correct in his estimate, and Collier's Weekly endorsed the vote. In the meantime a general election has been held, and the home state of the secretary of the interior, Washington, was one of the two in the whole country, that increased its Republican vote, indicating what the people who know him best think of him.

As between Pinchot and Ballinger, we think this: Pinchot is a zealot on the subject of forestry, and his only idea was saving the trees and the executive work of instituting an efficient forestry service. Ballinger, representing the sentiment of the northwest, thought only of exploiting the wealth out there to attract capital and people. There is a middle course, to which President Taft is steering; that of conserving the forests through the system inaugurated by Pinchot, and using the natural wealth of the country in an economical manner.

Ballinger has done nothing crooked, but is not sufficiently in sympathy with the policy of true conservation, we fear. Yet, though the president probably would have let him go from the cabinet, if charges had not been preferred; when accusations were made of down right fraud and criminality, the president was compelled by every dictate of conscience and common decency to stand by his cabinet officer until the charges were proven or disproved. Not a syllable of evidence has been adduced to indicate that Ballinger has been guilty of a positive act of wrong doing.

STATE PRESS.

Birthplace of Governors.

Kentucky has furnished other states with 105 governors, and the supply is not yet exhausted.—Louisville Post.

Their Semi-Centennial.

Last Friday was the fiftieth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Overby, of our city, and it happened that Mr. Overby was on a visit at the home of Mr. John Hart, near Hinkleville, and dined at the same place and in the same house in which he was married 50 years ago. We doubt seriously if there is another human in Kentucky who can lay claim to the fact that 50 years of married life was spent in the county in which they were married, and that on the day of the wedding thereafter, they dined in the same house, on the same spot, where the wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Overby have been residents of Wickliffe for 30 years, having moved here from Hinkleville, or near Hinkleville, where they were married, and lived until moving to this place.—Ballard Yeoman.

to an extent that would cause a number of states to lose some representatives. The painful operation would be borne by most of those states without heroic resistance. If the number of members should be reduced the losses of the slow-growing states would be larger and their protests much louder. Many members contend that the house with 391 representatives is now too large to be a deliberative body and is forced to do its work through committees and accept their recommendations. Census Director Durand will prepare for the use of congress statistics showing the proportion of population to house membership ranging from 350 to 475.

Many Bills Up.

An array of bills to be considered, and some of them to be fought over, relate to:

- The Panama Canal.
- Federal incorporation.
- Ship subsidy.
- Issuing of injunctions.
- Conservation.
- Locomotive boiler inspection.
- Alaska, form of government, natural resources and railroads.
- Bureau of Public Health.
- Cold storage law.

A feature of the session will be the report of the congressional committee that conducted the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation. The report of the minority of the committee has been made public, and it is expected that the majority will be heard from very early in the session.

Reports will be received from the senate committee that is investigating the alleged "third degree" method of extorting information from prisoners and a house committee that has been making an inquiry into charges that certain lawyers plan to extract three million dollars or more in attorney fees from Indians of the five civilized tribes.

IN COLD RIVER

OCCUPANTS OF YAWL ARE THROWN.

One of Ayer-Lord Company's Men Drown in Swell From Steamer.

One life was lost and those of eleven were jeopardized about 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening when a yawl, carrying twelve employees of the Ayer-Lord Tire company's fleet at Owen's Island headed for Paducah was swamped by the swells from the steamer J. B. Richardson. Frank Tyler, 26 years old, a negro laborer, was drowned in attempting to swim to the second yawl carrying 6 men. His body has not been recovered.

With the exception of George H. Wade, the foreman of the fleet, who was in the boat when it capsized, all are off duty today with severe colds. In the yawl were Foreman Wade, George W. Wade, Owen Stevens, Luther McHaffey, Will House, Oscar Price, Les Perkins and John Randall, white, and Turner Proby, Jim Hicks, Frank Tyler and Will McClure colored. The third yawl, containing 9 men, pulled to the bank, unloaded and returned and picked up Foreman Wade and Luther McHaffey. John Nesbit, colored, and Will Chambers came to the rescue in a yawl from the Jim Duffy and picked up three more, John Randall, Will McClure and Will Carter (colored). George Wade and Les Perkins (the latter who could not swim), held on to the yawl and were towed to the towboat Mary N., lying at the St. Bernard Coal company's docks. Jake Parker, the night watchman at the fleet, struck out with a skiff and gathered up Will House. The rest were gathered up in the second and fourth yawls. The second contained six men and the fourth four.

Laura E. Sargent, Mrs. Ella S. Rathvon, Rev. Irving C. Tomlinson, her corresponding secretary, William Rathvon, and her secretary, Adam H. Dickey.

"No arrangements regarding the time or the place of her burial have yet been decided upon. It is well known to her household that she believed in simplicity on such occasions, and in compliance with this knowledge it is expected that the service will be private and of a simple nature, consisting probably of prayer and readings from the Bible and with some brief speeches from the Christian Science text book. Only her relatives, her household and the officials of the church are expected to be in attendance."

Was in 90th Year.

"There having been no physician in attendance, Dr. George L. West of Newton Center, medical examiner for the district, was called early Sunday morning. Dr. West, after an investigation, pronounced the death due to natural causes and issued the customary certificate.

"Telegrams were sent to her son, Geo. W. Glover of Lead, S. D., apprising him of his mother's demise and requesting information as to his attendance and that of his family. "Mrs. Eddy was born in Bow, N. H., July 16, 1821, and was, therefore, in her 90th year."

There were few of the congregation at the morning service at the mother church today who knew that the life of the leader and teacher had ended. The service was as usual, and the two readers, Judge Smith and Mrs. Leland T. Powers, presented the sermon of the day, "God the Only Cause and Creator," with voices that were without emotion and had no suggestion of sadness.

Should Preach Creed.

The routine service, which closed with a hymn, the reading of the "Scientific Statement of Beliefs" and the benediction, was strictly followed, but just before the benediction Judge Smith changed the usual form by saying:

"I shall now read part of a letter written by our revered leader and reprinted on page 135 of 'Miscellaneous Writings.'"

"My Beloved Students—You may be looking to see me in my accustomed place with you, but this you must no longer expect. When I retired from the field of labor it was a departure, socially, publicly and finally, from the routine and such material modes as society and our societies demand. Rumors are rumors—nothing more. I am still with you on the field of battle, taking forward marches of broader and higher views, and with the hope that you will follow."

"All other thoughts should be given to the absolute demonstration of Christian science. You can well afford to give me up, since you have in my last revised edition of science and health your teacher and guide."

Many a Tear Shed.

"Although these lines," said Judge Smith, "were written years ago, they are true today and will continue to be true. But it becomes my duty to announce that Mrs. Eddy passed

The Best Gift Possible

Always a suitable Christmas remembrance, the umbrella which will be by far the most popular gift this year will be the HULL with its

The name HULL on the button is as much of a guarantee as "Sterling" on silverware. Everywhere the Hull is displacing the old style umbrella.

The reason is obvious. You have, in the Hull, a handle that you can use for years, with cover after cover.

There is no delay when a new cover or a different sort of cover is wanted.

Our store can instantly supply a Hull base, as the frame and cover are called.

Just snap it on and you have a new umbrella for no more than you would pay for an old rusty frame.

from our sight last night at a quarter before 11 o'clock, at her home on Chestnut Hill."

The greater part of the congregation left their seats in silence. There were no words of sorrow, although many a tear was shed. The strains of the recessional from the great organ were as joyous as ever.

The question of future leadership was referred to with great reserve by the leaders and others. Those who expressed a view said there would be no changes in the methods of carrying on the work, that Mrs. Eddy's teaching and instruction would be implicitly followed and the church that she founded would continue to grow in the future as it had in the past.

It was pointed out that with the exception of a few routine matters the actual direction of the church work was relinquished to a great degree by Mrs. Eddy some years previous to her death although she continued to keep in close touch with those to whom she had entrusted the work and had a clear understanding of how it was being performed.

The notice which she read at the morning service of the mother church was repeated at the evening service, an unusually large congregation being in attendance, and was also read at many other Christian Science churches in this section of the country.

Dr. West's Statement.

Dr. West said he was called to the Dr. home early this morning, reaching there at 9:30. He said:

"I found the body of a woman of about 90 lying on a bed, the hands crossed over the breast. The face was somewhat wasted, but kindly, and in repose. I talked with Calvin S. Frie who said:

"Mrs. Eddy had been in error about a week and passed away very quietly." Frie described the symptoms and spoke of inflammation in the chest which led me to the conclusion that pneumonia had been a contributory cause of death."

Miss Sibyl Wilbur, the latest of Mrs. Eddy's biographers, whose "Life" was approved by the leader and by the church authorities, says: "No mystery today surrounds Mrs. Eddy's life story."

Other commentators have criticized Mrs. Eddy, and some have denounced her as an impostor.

Not Announced in New York Churches.

New York, Dec. 5.—No mention of Mrs. Eddy's death was made here at any of the Christian Science churches, because no word of it had been received.

Mrs. Augusta Stetson, former first reader, recently excommunicated by the first church after her teachings had been withdrawn from the mother church, begged to be excused from making a statement "at this hour."

Eugene Cox, leader of the scientist, discussed Mrs. Eddy's death and said it will have no effect on the future of the Christian Science church. He said:

"Mrs. Eddy never preached that there is no material death, although she had predicted the ultimate conquest of death in time to come, and there need be no difficulty in the minds of Christian Scientists in reconciling the physical fact of her death with their belief in death itself."

"In her book, Mrs. Eddy has written: 'This generation seems too material for any strong demonstration over death, and hence cannot bring out the infinite reality of life, namely, that there is no death.'

"The church will run on smoothly of its own momentum."

Cox estimated that there are 1,300 Christian Science societies in the country.

Had Large Estate.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Former Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, who was counsel for Mrs. Eddy's children in litigation over her estate, said here today that he believed her fortune, nearly $2,000,000, had been given to the cause of Christian science.

"Mrs. Eddy was certainly a very remarkable character, whatever may be the ultimate judgment of mankind concerning Christian science."

FEELING "LIKE THE DEVIL?"

OF COURSE IT'S YOUR LIVER
Ever Tried Olive Tablets? Well, You'd Better.

When you have a restless, sleepless night and are nervous, grumpy and not fit for society, business or anything else—you need treatment.

Dr. Edwards prescribes Olive Tablets for you. Not calomel—no, indeed—not sickening calomel, but the little, sweet, pleasant-acting Olive Tablets.

They don't contain calomel, but olive oil, which is healing and soothing to the irritated organs.

Dr. Edwards discovered the formula for Olive Tablets only after 17 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaints. Nothing ever equaled these little sugar-coated tablets for preventing "dark brown tastes," bad breath, pimples, constipation, torpid livers, that dull, listless, "no good" feeling, etc.

Take one, as thousands do, every night for a while on going to bed. See how it clears your complexion, brain and outlook on life in general.

At all druggists in neat pocket packages. 15 tablets for 10c; 45 tablets for 25c.

Made by the Olive Tablet company of Portsmouth, Ohio. Dr. F. M. Edwards, Pres.

Mr. Pearson Lockwood, who is a student at Cumberland university, returned to Lebanon, Tenn., this afternoon after preaching at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday.

"Not on yo' life!" returned Rastus with large emphasis. "Yo ain't gwine to get no money outob me fo' coal this wintah!"

"What am de mattah?" asked the surprised dominie. "Ha'n't yo' always giv up fo' de coal fund before widout de necessity ob usin' stresse?"

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-made preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

FLORISTSELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR
"ABSENT ONES"

Great Crowd Completely Fills Kentucky
Theater---Beautiful And Impressive Program.

The nineteenth annual memorial services of the Paducah lodge of Elks was attended by a capacity audience Sunday afternoon at the Kentucky theater. The solemn impressiveness of the occasion was made manifest by the most fitting program. With one exception the program as planned was given.

A representative membership of the order was seated on the stage when the curtain rose at 2:30 o'clock. While the processional was being played the officers of the lodge and speakers entered, and occupied the front row of seats. The Rev. W. A. Fite delivered the invocation followed by the opening ceremony by the lodge. Secretary A. W. Grief called out the names of the departed brothers. The forget-me-not exercises were very impressive.

Eulogies on I. F. Harris and Walter H. Seck, whose deaths occurred since the last memorial, were given by the Hon. Hal S. Corbett. His remarks were made with his usual forcefulness and tributes of high esteem were made to the departed members. His speech was characterized by its eloquence and his masterful delivery. The orchestral numbers were played by Mrs. F. N. Burns and Messrs. C. A. and Robert Bondurant. The singers were Miss Julia Scott and Mrs. James Welle, soloists; and a male quartet composed of Messrs. F. N. Burns, Shavie Mall, Robert Scott and Emmet Bagby. Mrs. W. C. Gray and Mrs. Burns had charge of the musical program. Miss Ann Bradshaw was ill and could not sing.

The Oration.

Captain William J. Stone, of Eddyville, Ky., delivered the annual oration. His address was the main feature of the program and his timely thoughts touched the hearts of the vast crowd of spectators. The address in full is as follows:

Scores of people stood throughout the program as every seat on the lower floor and balcony was occupied.

Capt. Stone's Address.

In his speech Captain Stone said: "We have met in memory of those who were in this life members of this order, but who have been called and have answered the summons of the Exalted Ruler to begin the life eternal on the other side of the grave." "Paint me as I am," said Oliver Cromwell to young Lely, the artist. "If you leave out the scars and wrinkles I will not pay you one shilling." One of Shakespeare's characters, in contemplation of death, exclaimed, "Speak of me as I am; nothing extenuate, nor set down aught in malice." And likewise, our friends, I am sure, would have us remember them just as they were in life, that we might imitate their virtues and avoid their errors.

"It is meet and right that we should pause, and lay aside the performance of the regular routine in the duties of life long enough to ponder the lesson of warning to be learned at the graves of our dead. The exacting demands of modern business life are such that we all run the risk of losing sight of the momentous consideration, that life here is but an atom on the shores of time, while the future after-life is an endless and inevitable certainty.

"No thoughts couched in measured phrase or words set in metrical array, though we can say, can help or harm those in whose memory we have assembled today. It is vain to attempt to lift the veil, or to explore the land into which they have passed. They are beyond the reach of the concerns of time or space. They can not hear our lamentations, however loud, or our walling, however plaintive. They have passed from time to an endless eternity. While grief is the tribute of affection to the memory of the departed, awe and reverence are the acknowledgment of that mysterious after-land to which death is the portal.

"It is this intuition of our immortality that clothes an occasion like the present with impressive solemnity, and compels us to reflect that the path of human life, glorious or inglorious, leads to the grave, whence begins for each disembodied spirit its own eternal life." In the contemplation of our existence on earth under these conditions, how insignificant are worldly matters and incidents in comparison with man's here recalled and recorded of those in whose honor these services are held, as they shall be read or remembered in after years, inspire with lofty thoughts and pure and ennobling purposes all of us who yet live and those to come after us. It is right and proper that we pay tribute to our dead, thus doing honor to their names, but let us not forget to speak a kindly word of praise and encouragement, and lend a helping hand to our fellow man and struggling brother as he toils wearily up the rugged pathway of life.

"The custom of meeting on stated occasions to do honor to the memory of our dead loved ones, is a most commendable one. It is almost as old as the human race. We find in history that in early times, and in the middle ages, and in all the years of modern times down to the present, there has existed in the minds of the most enlightened of all ages a desire, largely put into practice, to visit the graves of the dead, and call to mind their faces and their virtues, and thus to become encouraged to follow their examples in all that was good and right in their lives.

"It is the common lot of man to be born, to live, to die, and to be forgotten. Only here and there, scattered very thinly along the pathway of the progress of our race, are a few immortal names and many of these few are only names. Rare indeed are they who survive to posterity in the full stature of their real manhood. If this were all, life and toil and sacrifice would indeed be not worth the living and the pain; but to leave a name, while each one of us desires it, is the very least we could leave. The worker may be forgotten, but the work remains. In the sum of human achievement, in the total of human glory, our labor is counted, our toil forms part, our very tears glisten. This is the sublime truth which gives courage to and feeds our love of life. Obscure though the labor be, the race we love is aided thereby, and bitter sacrifice is often necessary to the glorious consummation.

CAPT. W. J. STONE.
Orator at Elks' Memorial Sunday.

"Many hundred years ago, a monarch of almost limitless power and wealth and knowledge, who had sounded all the depths and shallows of this life, wrote the plaintive epiphany, 'All is vanity and vexation of spirit.' The centuries have gone by, and man has conquered all but death and the infinite hereafter. We whisper from continent to continent along the floor of the ocean, chain lightning from the sky, snatch a sunbeam with which to paint a woman's picture, and fit ourselves with wings and navigate the air; and yet, amidst all this splendor of invention and achievement, what intellectual man has not realized that there is no escape from the sentence and doom pronounced upon the race when God's law was first violated?

"When we stop to contemplate the ambitions and animosities that surround us—the contest for power and wealth; the hopes and fears that go to make up our daily life appear infinitely small, trivial and commonplace; but I imagine that when the time shall come for each of us, when all hope is gone and we know the end is near, in looking back over the life we have lived, it will not be the wealth we have accumulated, the victories we have won over our foes or fellow men, or the honors that we have gathered, that will give us the most pleasure and satisfaction, but the kind words we have spoken and the kind deeds we have performed when kindness was most needed and least expected, and the faithfulness with which we have followed the teachings and commands of our all-wise and loving Heavenly Father."

A commendable custom. The vicissitudes and circumstances surrounding human life in the transit through this earthly pilgrimage are sure to bring out and develop our capabilities and powers, and by them we are known and read of all men, and we are told that the good that men do lives after them. It is a strange commentary, however, upon human action, that we rarely find and speak of this good until the person is dead and the car into which it was our privilege to have spoken many words of cheer is forever closed, and they who might have been animated and encouraged to still loftier deeds or nobler endeavors have passed from the theater of action. Still may we hope that the tributes of love and praise, whether couched in poetry, in beautiful and rounded sentences, or in broken and homely phrases, as are mine, that have been or shall be spoken within these walls, shall not be entirely lost; but may the eulogies here pronounced, and the worthy deeds and sweet memories filled with sorrow as we think of our departed friends, let us reverently bow our heads in thankfulness that in the divine economy it is to the purity of will, the love of truth, the earnestness of faith, faith in our race, faith in our future, faith in all good, faith in Him who is the All-good, faith in His love and mercy, faith in His promises, that the true reward is given, not of applause and crowns and fame, but of an approving conscience and a fruitful life.

Victory in Divine Presence

"The Lord Is Among Them." Psalm 68, 17, was the text from which the Rev. H. W. Burwell preached last night at the First Presbyterian church. He said it was the glory, as well as the boast of ancient Israel, that the Lord was among them. Whenever they went into battle with the ark of the covenant before them, they conquered. When they departed from the ways of the Lord, they suffered. The churches today in the spiritual kingdom have the Lord in their midst, and though they may differ apparently in superficial things, their was a union and harmony among them, that is divine, just as the strings of the harp, each striking an individual note—all under the manipulation of a master's fingers vibrate in harmony, that is fundamental.

There was one addition to the church in the morning. Miss Nellie Henneberger sang the offertory. A collection was taken for foreign missions. After the morning service a Covenanters' band was organized among the boys of the church.

"I am not in the habit of endorsing patent medicines, but when I find remedies possessing true merits such as the Cuticura Remedies do, I am broad-minded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and must say I find the Cuticura Remedies as good as ever. They always bring results. G. M. Fisher, M.D., Big Pool, Md., Dec. 4, 1909."

DOCTOR RECOMMENDED THE CUTICURA REMEDIES.

"When I was ten or twelve years old I had a scalp disease, something like scald-head, though it wasn't that. I suffered for several months and most of my hair came out. Finally they had a doctor to see me and he recommended the Cuticura Remedies. They cured me in a few weeks. I have used the Cuticura Remedies, also, for a breaking out on my hands and was benefited a great deal. I haven't had any more trouble with the scalp disease. Miss Jessie F. Buchanan, R. F. "BROTHERLY LOVE" "CHURCH UNITY"

TWO SERMONS PREACHED IN PADUCAH SUNDAY.

Pearson Lockwood at Kentucky Avenue—New Preachers Arrive.

BAD WEATHER INTERFERES.

"Brotherly Love" and "Divine Love" were subjects of two strong sermons yesterday by the Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church. In his morning discourse Dr. Dodd said that love originated from God and is the strong cord that binds the world together. He said that it was not the weakling that it was often considered. He discussed the brotherly love of fraternal orders and lodges in the morning discourse while in the evening his theme dwelt with the divine love.

A Full Heaven.

"A Full Heaven" was the Rev. J. R. Clark's subject yesterday morning at the North Twelfth Street Baptist church. Last evening he used for his subject "With and Without Christ."

Postpone Services.

On account of the inclement weather of last evening the C. W. B. M. services planned at the Tenth Street Christian church were postponed until next Sunday morning. Yesterday morning there was one addition by confession. Baptismal services will be held at the close of prayer meeting Wednesday evening. The official board of the church will meet tonight at the office of J. K. Bondurant, 524 Broadway. It will be the last regular meeting of the year and a full attendance is desired.

A joint session of the Ladies' Aid and C. W. B. M. societies of the Tenth Street Christian church is being held this afternoon with Mrs. G. D. Wyatt, 409 South Fourth street.

Mr. McAllister Preaches

The pulpit at the Grace Episcopal church was filled yesterday morning by the Rev. E. C. McAllister, pastor of Good Shepherd House. No evening services were held. The Rev. Mr. McAllister filled his pulpit at the evening hour.

Willing Workers.

The Willing Workers' society of the Unity Evangelical (German) church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. John Wacker on Meyers street, Mechanicsburg. The time of meeting has been changed to 2:30 p. m.

The Rev. E. M. Peters Arrives.

The Rev. E. M. Peters, of Clinton, assumed charge of the Guthrie Avenue Methodist church yesterday. Services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting will be held as usual on Wednesday evenings and at Little's chapel on Thursday evenings.

Pearson Lockwood Preaches.

The Rev. Pearson Lockwood, of Paducah, who is a student at the Lebanon (Tenn.) University, filled the pulpit at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday morning. His theme was "Praise" and in his sermon he showed that praise to God arises from material and spiritual spheres. He said that God wants intelligent praise, which is due Him as the Creator, and there is no reason a sentence of life imprisonment. The verdict was returned at 10:45 o'clock Saturday night, after the veniremen had deliberated just four hours and twenty minutes.

When the foreman of the jury read its report the prisoner smiled, and, looking over at his attorneys, said: "Me no guilty. If me guilty they should hang me. They tell me; they frame up. Me no guilty."

Appeal for Wendling.

Attorneys for Joseph Wendling filed a motion for a new trial. The motion for a rehearing is based on affidavits already on file which state that Juror Richard Jennings had formed and expressed an opinion as to Wendling's guilt. These affidavits were filed during the progress of the trial by Wendling's attorneys in an effort to disqualify the jury. Judge Gregory, however, ordered the trial to proceed.

Wendling spent a quiet day at the jail. His only statement was made when the verdict was announced last night.

"I either killed the little girl or I didn't," said the condemned man. "They should either send me to the electric chair or turn me free."

Sunday School Union.

The Paducah Baptist Sunday School Union will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the First Baptist church. The meeting will be participated in by the five Baptist Sunday schools of the city.

False Hope.

"The False Hope of the Hypocrite" was the subject of an interesting sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Fountain Avenue Methodist church by the Rev. A. E. Scott, of Martin, Tenn. Last evening he preached on the subject of "Faith's Zeal for the Cause of Christ." The Rev. Scott returned home this afternoon. The new pastor, the Rev. P. B. Jefferson, will probably arrive tomorrow from Murray, Ky.

Dr. Mezey at Broadway.

The first quarterly meeting for the new conference year was held yesterday at the Broadway Methodist church. The presiding elder, the Rev. W. J. Mezey, filled the pulpit morning and night, preaching sermons of rare depth and insight. The morning sermon was a forcible and inspirational exposition of David's question, "Whom Have I?" Psal 73:25. At night Dr. Mezey's theme was "The Christian Endurance of St. Paul," and it was full of buoyancy and strength. The installation service was postponed owing to the bad weather. The quarterly Love Feast was held in the afternoon. There was one addition to the church at the morning hour.

WORLD PROBLEMS AND ETERNITY

THE REV. W. A. FITE ON ECONOMY OF CHRIST.

Lord Dealt With Issues in Relation to Human Souls Themselves.

OUR STEWARDSHIP FOR GOD.

Jesus Christ was not a socialist, a political economist or a reformer, but was a revealer of divine truths, and dealt with earthly problems in relation to eternal life, according to the Rev. W. A. Fite, who spoke at the First Christian church yesterday morning.

The specific political and social problems that belong to every age he did not dwell upon. His solutions for such problems as capital versus labor nor the rights of the poor and those of the rich contained the elements of eternity. Money to Christ was not a mere economical factor, but as Dr. Fite termed it, too often a barrier of souls to God. He talked of money in its relation to the soul rather than its relation to society. His three fundamental teachings of money was its accumulation, its peril and its use.

Dr. Fite said most of us today are striving only for money and neglecting our souls. Jesus, he said, thought it was all right to make money and was not against it, but taught that it is a subordinate issue. He said one could not serve God and Mammon. He said the hands that get money should be as clean as those that give. Dr. Fite said the world needs this message of Christ, as it was the whole tenor of His teachings.

As to the peril of money Dr. Fite said that Jesus said it was not a sin to possess money but it was a snare. It is a peril to souls. Dr. Fite said those possessing fortunes will naturally lead a useless life as far as God's work is concerned, and in this regard money was a peril. When calamity overtakes a rich man he comes to his senses and is awakened and saved. He said it is as hard for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God as it was for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle. Possession of wealth leads to self-indulgence and leads to utter uselessness and disregard of God. Humility, toleration, reverence, patience—these attributes are not developed by large possessions.

"That which you possess does not belong to you," said Dr. Fite. "You are holding it in trust for God. Jesus taught stewardship in the parables and you cannot do with your possessions what you please. No man can say that everything belongs to him, he said, for you can't possess exclusively anything material. Your Lungs Declared Sound— Life Insurance Granted.

If you knew a remedy that really had cured Tuberculosis, that had saved from death quite a number of people, would you try to get Consumptives interested in it and induce them to take it? Would you say nothing about it, for fear of giving offense?

We know the medicine. We know the people cured—some of them. We have the stories of cure of many—and affidavits from some. We advertise Eckman's Alternative to tell those who have lung disease what has been done by its use. Investigate the following:

1618 W. Dauphin St., Phila., Pa. Gentlemen: On the evening of May 12, 1907, I had five hemorrhages from my right lung. My hemorrhages kept up for one week—I had twenty-eight in all. Before pneumonia developed. My doctor told me I had better go to another climate as my left lung had also become affected. About that time I met Howard Klotz, 1619 Susquehanna Ave., this city, who had hemorrhages several years ago and who was cured by Eckman's Alternative. I started to take Eckman's about the latter part of August, 1907. My appetite improved at once and in about two weeks I started to gain weight. I improved steadily. Later, a very bad lameness developed in my right leg and I commenced to get a lump on my right hip. My doctor told me I was getting a tubercular abscess and that it was affecting the sciatic nerve. The lameness and I gradually disappeared. Have not had trouble of that nature since.

Since my recovery about a year ago I was accepted for life insurance. I was examined by a company and previously rejected me.

I have advised several people to take Eckman's Alternative—cures Eczema, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. Ask for booklet of cures and write to the Eckman Institute, Philadelphia, Pa., for a sample. For Sale by all real possessions are spiritual and intellectual, which develop culture and character. We must give an account to God at the end, he said and show how we used our riches. He said Jesus' teachings upon money were the most profound ever given. He said a banker is careful how he keeps and uses the money of the depositor as the latter is likely at any time to demand his savings. We are all bankers of God, said Dr. Fite, and some day we shall stand before the probate court to give an account of ourselves, just as the administrator and guardian must. What we need to learn, he said, is stewardship. Money is for only two purposes, benevolent and esthetic and is not to be wasted.

Dr. Fite advocates the setting aside of one-tenth of one's income to religious work and the careful appropriation of the other nine-tenths.
